Scope and Content

Busch, Michael Files, 1 box

The first series of the White House Press Office is the Michael Busch Files. Busch was the Assistant Press Secretary from September 1991 to January 20, 1993. Although only one box, his files include trip schedules, preliminary outlines of press schedules, pool assignments, press notices, press releases, and travel announcements.

Cooper, B. Jay, Files, 1 box 1989

Jay B. Cooper's files are chronological files of correspondence and memoranda from January 1989 to July 1989. Also included is his daily planner book for 1989. Cooper was responsible for scheduling times, places, and clearances for visitors and the press.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Alphabetical Correspondence Files, 7 boxes 1989–1992

A subseries containing correspondence, notes, photographs, memoranda, clippings, cards, invitations; arranged chronologically by year, thereunder alphabetically.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Alphabetical Subject Files, 31 boxes 1989–1993

The Alphabetical Subject Files consists of memoranda, correspondence, telegrams, itineraries, notes, publications, press clippings, press releases, press briefings, transcripts, reports, statistics, talking points, photographs, invitation lists, press pool reports, and fact sheets arranged alphabetically. The Alpha File contains material related to a wide range of issues and topics, both foreign and domestic. Much of this subseries consists of briefing materials, background information and press releases prepared for the press. It also contains correspondence, notes, and memoranda reflecting the daily functions of the Press Secretary and his interactions with the President, the White House Staff, federal agencies and the public.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Bush Family Alphabetical Subject Files, 3 boxes 1989–1992

The subseries Bush Family Alphabetical Subject Files is comprised of general biographical material on the President and the First Family, completed official financial disclosure forms, and information that focuses on the record of the Bush administration. Correspondence, press clippings, financial forms, notes, press releases, reports, and memoranda containing Bush biographical and financial material can be found in these files.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Chronological Correspondence Files, 3 boxes 1992–1993

A subseries containing correspondence, notes, cards, invitations arranged chronologically by date.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Guidance Files 75 boxes, 1989–1991

This series contains daily information on both domestic and foreign issues and events. The daily folders contain information gathered by (or sent to) the Press Secretary and used to formulate his briefings to the press and his responses to their questions. The files also contain information released from the White House Press Office (and other federal agencies) to members of the press. This series documents the official administration position on various issues and how that position was communicated to both the press and the public. The series also contains pool reports written by the White House press corps. Specifically, this series contains: Press guidance (possible questions and answers), press briefings, press releases, texts of presidential remarks, texts of presidential proclamations, texts of presidential letters to Congress, press briefings from other federal agencies (e.g. Department of State, Department of Defense), talking points, press pool reports, schedules of the president, and news clippings. The guidance files for 1990 contain less substantive information and materials than those files covering the years 1989 and 1991.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Miscellaneous Files, 1 box

Includes miscellaneous files belonging to Secretary Fitzwater including magazines, presidential interview requests, memorandums, and much more.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Name Files 9 boxes, 1989–1991

The Name Files contain correspondence with friends, members of the media, private citizens, and private organizations and institutions. They document Marlin Fitzwater's professional duties as a bridge between the President and the news media and also provide some insight into his private life and personality.

Fitzwater, Marlin, Files—Trip Boards Files 19 Boxes, 1988–1992

The final subseries in the Marlin Fitzwater series is the Trip Boards Files. The Press Office maintained the file material in stiff legal-sized cardboard file folders which fastened at the top; the Press Office staff referred to these files as "boards," hence the name "trip boards." These files reflect the activity of the Press Office during each presidential trip as well as document events of the trip alongside other activities and concerns of the White House for each individual day of the trip. The Trip Boards also include logistical guidance provided by the Press Office to members of the press corps accompanying the President. The material in this series often duplicates information found in previous series, such as the Subject File and Guidance File. Travel vouchers, White House travel authorizations, press releases, press briefings, press conferences, pool reports, schedules, and manifests.

Foster, Gary, Files—Subject Files, 9 boxes

The files of Gary Foster, Special Assistant to the President and Deputy Assistant Press Secretary, demonstrate how the Press Office gathered information on issues and maintained that information to use as guidance when responding to press questions about the administration and domestic and foreign events. Also in this series are numerous requests for interviews with the President. These requests were filed by the name or the affiliation of the journalist.

Glenn, Alixe Files, 1 box

The Alixe Glenn Subject File contains correspondence and regrets from August 1989 to July 1990. Also included in these records are telephone logs from June 1990 to November 1990.

Hart, Stephen, Files—Subject Files, 16 boxes

Stephen Hart's subject files contain press guidance (possible questions and answers), press briefings, press releases, texts of presidential remarks, press releases from other federal agencies (e.g. Department of Interior, Department of Transportation), fact sheets, clippings, wire stories, talking points, handwritten notes, and memoranda arranged alphabetically.

Melillo, Laura, Files—Subject Files, 5 boxes

The Laura Melillo Subject Files contains general information on various subjects including abortion, Air Force One, crime, healthcare, welfare reform, the State of the Union addresses, and the President's health. This series also contains a large number of media requests.

Smith, Judy, Files—Subject Files, 21 boxes

The files of Deputy Press Secretary Judy Smith are arranged into a subject file that primarily covers domestic policy issues and major legislation alongside various smaller topics. As Deputy Press Secretary, Smith served as a Press Office liaison to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the Departments of Labor, Transportation, Energy, Housing and Urban Development, and Interior. Smith used information and guidance provided by these departments to prepare press briefings and to coordinate Administration statements to Congress and the press. A substantial portion of this series contains biographical material released by the White House about President Bush and his family.

Rogers, Ed, Files—1 box

This series includes correspondence and public financial disclosure reports.

Walsh, Sean, Files—Backup File, 1 box 1988–1991

These files contain reports, press releases, and memos arranged numerically.

Walsh, Sean, Files—Chron File, 28 boxes 1991–1992

The Chron Files document Sean Walsh's responsibility for providing the media with daily logistical information such as the president's schedule and briefing times. The bulk of the Chron File consists of News Summaries, Friday Follies, and schedules. Also included are press releases, fact sheets, pool reports, press briefings, remarks by the president, and clippings arranged chronologically by date.

Walsh, Sean, Files—Personnel Announcement Files, 2 boxes 1990–1991

These files contains press releases of personnel announcements, nominations for federal job appointments, resumes, and clearance initiation forms arranged chronologically by date.

Walsh, Sean, Files—Presidential Overseas Travel File, 1 box 1989

The Travel files consist of information prepared for the press regarding the various international destinations of the President. Although extremely limited in scope (the series covers only three trips) this series does represent one of Walsh’s primary responsibilities—providing the media with logistical trip information. Specifically includes are maps of countries/cities/sites visited, biographies of leaders, background papers, background notes, notes on customs, time conversion tables, and monetary conversion tables arranged chronologically by date of trip.

Walsh, Sean, Files—Subject File, 8 boxes 1988–1992

The Subject Files contain background material and press guidance related to a variety of domestic and foreign topics. In addition, the Walsh Subject File contains material related to the routine operation of the Lower Press Office. More specifically, these files contain memoranda, correspondence, notes, transcripts, press releases, press briefings, clippings, telegrams, schedules, and publications arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Wilmot, Bruce General Information:

The Bruce Wilmot series is comprised of three subseries arranged alphabetically: Audiovisual Files, Friday Follies Files, and News Summary Files. Wilmot started as an editorial assistant under William Hart, who was the News summary and Audio SVCs director under Ronald Reagan. He was then promoted to the Deputy Director of News Summary by 1986 and held that position through part of 1987. In the same year, Wilmot was promoted to the Director of News Summary, a position which lasted him through the George H.W Bush administration.

Wilmot, Bruce Audiovisual Files—Radio Actualities, 1 box

An actuality is a recorded segment of a newsmaker speaking, and is commonly referred to as a “soundbite.” All files transferred to A/V department.

Wilmot, Bruce—Lower Press Office Files—Friday Follies File, 19 boxes 1988–1993

The second subseries for Bruce Wilmot is the Friday Follies Files. These files originated under the Reagan administration, whose Office of News Summary issued Friday Follies weekly. The release of the files continued under President Bush and are a compilation of political cartoons taken from various newspaper sources across the country such as the Washington Times, The Miami Herald, and many others.

Wilmot, Bruce—News Summary Files, 188 boxes 1989–1993

The Third subseries for Bruce Wilmot is the News Summary Files. The News Summary Files contain briefings of relevant media publications from various sources such as newspapers, television, and radio that were deemed relevant for presidential consumption. Wilmot further categorizes the media publications into three categories: international news, national news, and network news. Not all of the News Summaries are directly tied to President Bush’s agenda or national events, and occasionally include special editorial opinion reports on topics of interest to the administration. These files could be useful to researchers who are interested in assessing how the Bush administration felt about the media and its importance. Two boxes, however, are worthy of special consideration because of their detail and insight into the intricate workings of the News Summaries. OA/ID 08838 includes congratulatory letters from Deputy Assistant to the President and Deputy Director of Presidential personnel Jan Naylor and Sharon Fitzpatrick Rogers, associate director of presidential personnel. The letters congratulate various personnel on their appointments to various boards and committees. OA/ID 08785 includes detailed instructions by Wilmot to Deputy Director Floyd D. Jones and staff about the format of News Summary, which includes information about the standards of how to handle presidential arrivals and departures, the importance of reading President Bush’s daily schedule, staff expectations, and staff scheduling. It should also be noted that this box includes details about how the Office of News Summary was charged with producing news-clips on Supreme Court justice Clarence Thomas and his nomination. Various memorandums from Deputy Director Jones can also be found here.

Administrative Files General Information:

When combined, the Administrative Files and its three subseries chronicles the administration of office policies and procedures as established within the Press Office and the White House. Although the documents span the years 1987–1993, the bulk of the material falls within the 1989–1992 time frame.

Administrative Files—Administrative File, 6 boxes

This subseries contains memoranda, notes, letters, appointment request forms, appointment books, scheduling proposal forms, press releases, an income tax return from Dan Quayle in 1988, Air Force One Manifests, and other administrative material. Arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Administrative Files—Interview Requests Files, 4 boxes 1988–1993

This subseries contains schedule proposals, pre-briefs, letters, notes, memoranda, interview outlines, and possible interview questions arranged chronologically by year.

Administrative Files—Travel Vouchers and Authorization Forms Files, 2 boxes 1987–1993

This subseries contains travel vouchers and travel authorization forms arranged alphabetically by last name of traveler.

Audiovisual Files, 1 box

Contains transfer sheet for miscellaneous floppy disks video, and cassette tapes.

Daily Guidance Files, 37 boxes 1990

The Daily Guidance File consists of materials concerning the routine activities of the Press Office during 1990. Guidance files for other years of the Bush administration can be found in the Guidance File series of the Marlin Fitzwater Files. Some of the more noteworthy material in this series are memos from Michael J. Boskin, Bush's chief economic advisor, press guidance in the form of possible questions and answers on such topics as Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, and handwritten notes (possibly the handiwork of Fitzwater). Internal memos regarding proposed strategies on how to use the press to get more public support for Bush (especially in the case of the Persian Gulf crisis) can also be found in these papers. Besides Saddam Hussein's actions, other subjects covered at considerable length in the records include Gorbachev's confrontation with the Baltic States, the question of Israeli settlements in the occupied territories, the use of Latin American countries to help the U.S. in the war on drugs, the need to make headway in cutting the deficit, and Bush's environmental policy.

Daily Press Briefings Files—Chronological Files, 13 boxes 1989–1993

Consists of transcripts of briefings given to the press by White House or agency officials. Most of the transcripts are of briefings given by Press Secretary Fitzwater. Fitzwater's briefings cover general announcements (upcoming meetings, schedules, trips) before proceeding to domestic and foreign issues of interest for that day. Typically, briefings to the press progressed in a question-and-answer format. Other briefings given by government departments or agencies usually addressed a specific event (such as a head-of-state visit) or issue that directly involved the department giving the briefing. Occasionally, such briefings were called "background briefings." On such occasions, members of the press were forbidden from naming the briefing official in their stories and were only allowed to refer to that person as "a senior administration official." These briefings by administration officials also progressed in a question-and-answer format.

Daily Press Releases Files—Chronological Files, 35 boxes 1989–1993

The Daily Press Releases contain copies of the information distributed to members of the press by the Press Office Staff. Frequent types of press releases were transcripts of Presidential speeches and remarks, announcements of Presidential actions (such as nominations, executive orders and bill signings), fact sheets, texts of proclamations, and statements by the press secretary, press pool reports, schedules, and transcripts of press briefings. The various types of press releases aided the press in covering the president and filing their stories. This series also contains a complete index to press releases, press briefings, proclamations, Presidential remarks and statements by the press secretary.

Events Sheets Files, 5 boxes 1989–1993

The Press Office Events Sheets Files consists entirely of one-page memoranda listing the participants, date, time, duration, location, attire, and media coverage for each approved presidential activity.

Foreign and Domestic Trip Files—Trip Files, 12 boxes 1989–1993

The Trip Files consist of materials concerning President Bush's trips both inside and outside the United States. Although not an exhaustive listing, the series does document many of the major foreign trips and provides an account of most of the appearances he made in the final month of the 1992 campaign. Included in the assortment of records are background briefings, press releases, pool reports, schedules, manifests, transcripts of interviews and press conferences, speeches, travel vouchers, and trip compilations with fact sheets and other relevant data.

Foreign and Domestic Trip Files—Trip Schedules Files, 2 boxes 1989–1990

The Trip Schedules contains routine and trip itineraries for President Bush. A selective recounting of the years 1989–90, the subseries was put together exclusively for the use of the reporters covering the White House. Included in the papers are brief notices to the press that usually describe changes in the travel arrangements of the President.

Internal Transcripts Files, 4 boxes 1989–1993

The Internal Transcripts contain transcripts of interviews and question-and-answer sessions given by President Bush, Mrs. Bush, John Sununu, and several other White House officials. The transcripts cover a wide range of topics including domestic issues, foreign policy, the President's programs, and the Bush family and friends. It also has some transcripts of interviews given by foreign officials such as Foreign Minister Shevardnadze of the Soviet Union/Russia and King Hussein of Jordan. In addition, there are transcripts of round table discussions by Asian, Spanish, and Jewish groups.

Lower Press Office Files- Fact Sheets Files, 1 box 1989–1991

This series contains fact sheets on upcoming trips and events. The sheets provide in-depth details about the population, area, industry, education, and history of the cities, states, and countries to be visited by the president. The Fact Sheets also cover details on any businesses or events to be visited by the president, as well as include political profiles of each state. These records are filed in chronological order starting on February 10, 1989 and run through September 12, 1991.

Lower Press Office Files—Pool Reports Files, 3 boxes 1989–1993

This series consists of reports by various reporters who accompanied the President and his staff on all domestic and foreign trips and events. The reports contain information ranging from the travel arrangements to President Bush's attire. They report about the mood and atmosphere as well as the food served. The reports also cover the weather conditions. These records are in chronological order starting on January 20, 1989, and run through January 14, 1993.

Lower Press Office Files—Schedules of the President File, 2 boxes 1990–1993

This series contains daily schedules of the President. Within the schedules are some press schedules and press pool assignments.

Lower Press Office Files—Press Release Master Files, 23 boxes 1989–1993

The Press Release Master Files contains an index and an assortment of press releases. The index contains lists of all statements given to the press by the administration. These index folders provide the dates for various remarks, memorandums, presidential statements, etc., but they do not provided a detailed description of each. The assortment of press releases are in chronological order and provide an interesting insight into how the administration communicated with the press. These documents outside of the index folders include: remarks by the president, press briefings, presidential statements, and text of letters from the president, executive orders, appointments, proclamations, notices, and some other information issued by the Office of the Press Secretary. This series also contains daily information on both domestic and foreign issues and events. The index file folders contain day by day accounts of the activities of the president and occasionally other members of his administration such as Press Secretary Marlin Fitzwater. This series may be suitable to researchers who have an interest in specific dates during the administration and the information released by the Press Office (and other federal agencies) to members of the press on those dates. This series documents the official administration position on various issues and how that position was communicated to both the press and the public.

Lower Press Office Files—Presidential Trips Files 3 boxes, 1991–1992

This series contains information for and about foreign and domestic presidential trips. It includes presidential schedules and remarks, fact sheets, press schedules, pool reports and pool assignments, press interviews, press briefings and releases, and statements by the Press Secretary.

Lower Press Office Files—Remarks by the President File, 1 box 1991

This series contains briefings and remarks given by the President. It also has some briefings that were held by other press office staff. This set of records is very similar to the Press Releases. They have trip schedules, fact sheets, Presidential scheduling and appointments, and numerous statements and remarks by the President.

Press Briefings Files- Chronological Files 10 boxes, 1989–1992

Most Press Briefings are provided by Press Secretary Marlin Fitzwater but some briefings and statements given by the President are included. Most of the information falls under three categories: announcements, domestic issues, and foreign issues. Under announcements, the information consists of upcoming meetings, budgets, scheduling, trips, and presidential staffing and appointments. Domestic issues contains information on budgets and various programs such as clean air, health care, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and upcoming trips. It also contains information on press conferences, presidential remarks, and background briefings given by senior administration officials. The foreign issues category contains information on foreign visits, meetings, and press coverage of presidential trips to Japan, China, and Italy.

Press Briefings and Press Release Files, 35 boxes

This series provides all of the Press Briefings and Releases for every year of the Bush administration. The files are in chronological order and provide an interesting insight into how the administration communicated with the press.

Press Release Files—Chronological Files, 13 boxes 1989–1993

This file series contains press releases and administrative information issued to reporters by the Lower Press Office of the White House as well as pool reports filed by members of the media. The content of the press releases include, but is not limited to, announcements, remarks, radio addresses, and speeches made by the President to various organizations and gatherings, the text of letters issued by the President, and Presidential proclamations and executive orders. The text of certain press briefings by White House officials and cabinet members are also located in these files as well as fact sheets issued to the press covering various issues. Additionally, these files include press pool assignments, schedules of the Presidents week, schedules for Presidential trips, and press schedules for these trips compiled by the Lower Press Office and issued to the media. Finally, these files contain press pool reports issued by pool reporters that provide detailed coverage of Presidential activities. While often mundane, these reports do contain some candid, first-hand accounts of Presidential activities.

Press Release Files 15 boxes, 1989–1993

This series contains the same information and types of items released to the press as the Daily Press Releases. The two series are even arranged the same way. However, because the Press Office maintained these files separately these records were processed as two distinct series.

Subject Files, 8 boxes

The Subject File contains material dealing with a wide variety of both foreign and domestic issues. Although the series is not a thorough documentation of important issues in the Bush administration, a sizeable segment of this series documents the media coverage of the Supreme Court nomination and confirmation of Judge Clarence Thomas.

Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents Files, 6 boxes 1989–1992

This series contains booklets from January 1989 to November 1992 which contain addresses, remarks, announcements, appointments, nominations, fact sheets, interviews, and communications with Congress and statements given by the President.
