Scope and Content

The Lex Frieden Collection consists of correspondence, campaign materials, conference materials, grant proposals, legislation, notes, papers, printed material, reports, speeches, and audio-visual material created and collected by Frieden in his advocacy work for persons with disabilities. The records relate to development of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) proposal, lobbying efforts immediately preceding passage of the ADA, implementation efforts following passage of the law, international initiatives at the UN and abroad, the ADA Amendments Act (passed during the George W. Bush administration), and efforts by various organizations advocating for disability rights and promoting public awareness. The collection includes significant papers related to the independent living movement by people with disabilities which began in the US after the Vietnam conflict and directly led to the passage of the ADA. Also included are records related to Frieden's various domestic and international efforts as a disability rights activist.

Biographical Note

Lex Frieden (born 1949) has worked in the independent living movement for severely disabled people since the early 1970s. He served as a consultant panel member for the United States House of Representatives' Committee on Science and Technology from 1976 through 1978, and he prepared the background paper on Community and Residential Based Housing for the White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals in 1977.

From 1984 to 1988, Frieden served as Executive Director of the National Council on the Handicapped (now the National Council on Disability). In this capacity, he was instrumental in conceiving and drafting the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). From 1989 to 1990, he represented the United States on a disability and employment panel at the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris, France. In 2002, Frieden was appointed by President George W. Bush as Chairperson of the National Council on Disability, an independent federal agency located in Washington D.C. His term ended in August, 2006.

A graduate of Tulsa University, Frieden has been honored as a Distinguished Alumnus. He holds a master's degree in social psychology from the University of Houston. He has done additional graduate work in rehabilitation psychology at the University of Houston with support from an SRS doctoral fellowship, and he has been awarded a World Rehabilitation Fund Fellowship to study programs for disabled people in Europe. In 2004, he was awarded an honorary doctorate in law (LL.D.) by the National University of Ireland.

Frieden, a quadriplegic due to spinal cord injury, has been involved in the organization of several groups of disabled individuals including the American Coalition of Citizens with Disabilities, the Coalition of Texans with Disabilities, and the Houston Coalition for Barrier Free Living. He is past Chairman of the American Association of People with Disabilities (AAPD).

For additional information, see Lex Frieden's website: http://www.lexfrieden.com/_lfrieden/lex1.html

Preservation Note

Significant rust damage on many of the records. All rusted metal (clips, staples, etc.) was removed from the collection and replaced with stainless steel, but there may be residual flakes of rust on records and folders. Gloves available upon request.
