Scope and Content

The materials in FOIA 1999-0727-F [1] are a selective, not necessarily all inclusive, body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials.

FOIA 1999-0727-F [1] contains materials concerning Tropical Storm Hugo. On September 13, 1989, the storm, the sixth one of the 1989 Atlantic season, developed into a hurricane and struck the French Caribbean islands of Montserrat and Guadeloupe on September 16. Increasing in speed, it slammed into the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico on September 17-18, 1989 with sustained winds over 130 mph and gusting up to 220 mph. The storm caused extensive property damage, especially on the island of St. Croix, and then proceeded to come ashore on the United States mainland at Charleston, South Carolina on September 21-22, 1989. The storm continued inland into North Carolina leaving widespread destruction. President Bush declared the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, South Carolina and parts of North Carolina federal disaster areas. This FOIA documents White House response to the natural disaster. Included are letters, memoranda, and reports providing information about all aspects of federal coordination of disaster relief efforts. Of particular importance are weekly situation reports outlining all emergency and relief activities undertaken by the federal authorities in the weeks after the storm. Much of the material in this FOIA was created by or for the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

System of Arrangement

Records that are responsive to this FOIA request were found in three collection areas—Bush Presidential Records: WHORM Alphabetical Files; Bush Presidential Records: WHORM Subject Files; and Bush Presidential Records: Staff and Office Files. As policy, WHORM Alphabetical Files and WHORM Subject Files are processed at the document level. Staff and Office Files are processed at the folder level, that is, individual documents are not selected and removed from a folder for processing. While this method maintains folder integrity, it frequently results in the incidental processing of documents that are not wholly responsive to the subject area.

The WHORM Subject File compiled by the White House Office of Records Management is comprised of a series of documents assigned a letter/number combination and filed in a subject category. A complete listing of the subject categories including a detailed description of each category is available in our research room and on our website at <http://bushlibrary.tamu.edu/research/find/whorm/whorm.html>.

Please note that a single asterisk "*" indicates that the category is entirely processed and open.
