Access

Collection is open to all researchers. Access to Bush Presidential Records, Bush Vice Presidential Records, and Quayle Vice Presidential Records is governed by the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)(5 USC 552 as amended) and the Presidential Records Act (PRA)(44 USC 22) and therefore records may be restricted in whole or in part in accordance with legal exemptions.

Copyright

Documents in this collection that were prepared by officials of the United States government as part of their official duties are in the public domain. Researchers are advised to consult the copyright law of the United States (Title 17, USC) which governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Provenance

Official records of George Bush's presidency and vice presidency are housed at the George Bush Presidential Library and administered by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) under the provisions of the Presidential Records Act (PRA).

Processed By

Staff Archivists, May 2000. Previously restricted materials are added as they are released.

Related Collections

Related material may be found in FOIA request 1999-0727-F [1] entitled "Tropical Storm Hugo" and 1999-0727-F [3] Hurricane Iniki."

Scope and Content

The materials in FOIA 1999-0727-F [2] are a selective, not necessarily all inclusive, body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials.

FOIA 1999-0727-F [2] contains material related to Hurricane Andrew. The storm slammed into the Florida coast just south of Miami, Florida on August 24-25, 1992, causing massive amounts of damage especially in Homestead, Florida. Thousands of homes and businesses were destroyed leaving the area crippled and without electricity or water. The storm blew across the Florida peninsula and remained a hurricane as it moved north in the Gulf of Mexico. It then moved ashore in Southern Louisiana and passed just east of Lafayette, causing severe damage in the area, though not as widespread as in South Florida. At the time, Hurricane Andrew proved the most costly and damaging storm in modern history. This FOIA documents all aspects of executive branch reaction to the storm. Included are reports, letters, memos, agenda, lists, and printed materials providing detailed information about the activities of the Bush Administration leading up to and after the storm made landfall in Florida and Louisiana. The storm situation reports provide extensive information about relief efforts and damage assessments. Much material in the FOIA documents the coordination of volunteer efforts to provide relief to the storm's victims. The Office of National Service, in particular, interacted with volunteer agencies and with We Will Rebuild, the primary volunteer and relief clearinghouse for the effected areas. Correspondence documents the appointment of Alvah Chapman to head We Will Rebuild and provides detailed information about the focus of relief efforts and activities in South Florida.

System of Arrangement

Records that are responsive to this FOIA request were found in four collection areas—Bush Presidential Records: WHORM Alphabetical Files; Bush Presidential Records: WHORM Subject Files; Bush Presidential Records: Staff and Office Files; and Federal Records. As policy, WHORM Alphabetical Files and WHORM Subject Files are processed at the document level. Staff and Office Files are processed at the folder level, that is, individual documents are not selected and removed from a folder for processing. While this method maintains folder integrity, it frequently results in the incidental processing of documents that are not wholly responsive to the subject area.

The WHORM Subject File compiled by the White House Office of Records Management is comprised of a series of documents assigned a letter/number combination and filed in a subject category. A complete listing of the subject categories including a detailed description of each category is available in our research room and on our website at <http://bushlibrary.tamu.edu/research/find/whorm/whorm.html>.

Please note that a single asterisk "*" indicates that the category is entirely processed and open.
