Dear Mr. Wallis:

Thank you for your warm and thoughtful message regarding the situation in the Persian Gulf.

I am heartened by the widespread support of the American people for the efforts to enforce United Nations sanctions aimed at bringing about a withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Kuwait and restoration of Kuwait's independence. I am also encouraged by the number of other countries -- including Arab nations -- that have joined the international effort to defend Saudi Arabia against aggression.

Your kind words mean a great deal to me, and I appreciate your support.

Sincerely,

GEORGE BUSH A

Dear Mr. President:

I would like to express my opinions and suggestions for handling the Iraq dispute.

1. The public should be informed about the character and past behavior of Saddam Hussein.
2. Try to get the Media off the hostages, what they are doing is increasing the importance and bribery of holding hostages.
3. Tell Saddam Hussein that if he uses poisonous chemicals that the U.S. will use the Atomic Bomb on his military.
4. There is a high population of Shite Moslems in Dearborn, Michigan and some of them are radicals; put them under observation.
5. Try to avoid being interviewed about war on the golf courses it creates a negative impression of you.
6. Get military assistance and support from as many countries as possible, so that it does not appear or become the source of propaganda that Americans are trying to start a war. Always remind the public that Saddam Hussein started the war, by repeating his past actions to the public.
7. Have some one expose the religious hypocrisy of Saddam Hussein and let the staff constantly remind the press and the public.
8. Get Paul Johnson, a brilliant scholar, conservative and expert on Mideast history the past 60 years to represent your administration in T.V. interviews with background information.
9. Why aren't the Democratic leaders being interviewed on T.V? Are they playing it safe, by holding out until they see what follows your decisions? Get them involved in T.V. news reports in evenings and on C Span. You don't want this conflict to be ultimately viewed by the Democrats as a President Bush Crisis.
10. Open oil exploration in the U.S. now.

Sincerely yours,

Hal B. Wallis
