THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 28, 1990

Dear Mr. Stassen:

Thank you for your letter reiterating your interest to serve in a position within the Bush Administration.

While the number of deserving and qualified individuals has far exceeded our projections of available positions, please be assured that your credentials will be given serious consideration when appropriate vacancies arise.

We deeply appreciate your continued interest and support of this Administration.

Sincerely,

CHASE UNTERMEYER
Assistance to the President and Director of Presidential Personnel

President George Bush

Dear President Bush:

I trust you realize both the sincere and serious nature of my August 17th volunteering to go to Iraq.

With humility, may I add that I have had very extensive and successful experience in that area of the world and with the area's national leaders.

I also was recently given a special recognition award by Middle East Technical University of Ankara, Turkey, for my crucial part thirty years ago in the founding of that today strong institution.

I would, of course, be open to examination and cross-examination by representatives of your administration before a decision is made by you.

Finally, it occurs to me that since the Ambassador's position is not now active, this appointment may be an intelligent and effective method of my approach to a solution on your and the Secretary of State's behalf.

With my respect and personal best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Harold E. Stassen

President George Bush
The White House

Washington, DC

Dear Mr. President:

Based on my very long and broad experience and the Eisenhower precedents, I believe that if I could confer with Saddam Hussein in depth, I could convince him to turn his course of action in a comprehensive manner entirely satisfactory to you, and to the UN, without war.

Therefore, I am moved to respectfully ask whether you would consent to my going to Iraq, as a private citizen, without any authority to negotiate, but with your agreement to confer personally with me upon my return.

If you will permit me to do so, I will then endeavor to obtain a visa for that purpose.

With personal best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Harold E. Stassen
